

Guide to TEFL Job Hunting

This 40-page downloadable guide will set you on the way to making the most of your hard-earned qualifications and land you the job that you're looking for.

The guide starts with an overview of the English Language Teaching market. We look at the most popular TEFL locations around the world and the conditions that teachers work under. What sort of lifestyle can you expect and what salaries are currently being paid.

The guide looks at things to think about before you choose your destination and when you are considering what job to apply for. Health and taxes, salary and qualifications, paperwork and types of school are all covered.

The second chapter, "Best Foot Forward" looks at the types of employer and the types of teaching you might be doing in your new job. This chapter also looks at the covering letter and CV, your vital first contact with a prospective employer.

In the next chapter, "Time to Apply" we show you how to do the research and groundwork and how to shine in an interview. What questions will you be asked and what questions should you ask?

Finally we look at ways to develop within your new career, how to get the next job and how to re-enter the world beyond TEFL.
